

The will to win,
the desire to succeed,
the urge to reach your full potential...
these are the keys that will
unlock the door to personal excellence.

Welcome to commencement

The key that you are wearing on your tassel today represents the many doors that your education at Lynn will open for you.

During your time here, you were among the first college students in the nation to experience boundless classrooms with iPad-powered learning. You gained a global mindset with peers from 100 countries. And for many of you, that global experience extended well beyond campus as you studied in programs around the world. Some of you earned national championship trophies. Some of you graduated at warp speed through Lynn's accelerated degree programs. Some of you have already connected with your future employers through the career center.

And all of you are now part of a proud tradition of Lynn University graduates who leave here with the intellectual flexibility to achieve your potential and build a better world.

Wear your tassel key proudly, graduate. We hope this memento will help you, our newest alumni, remember your home, your friends and your life-affirming experiences at Lynn University.

Congratulations, class of 2017.

Speakers

Commencement speaker, Robert Watson

Dr. Robert Watson is professor of American studies in the College of Arts and Sciences at Lynn University and an author, media commentator and community activist.

Following the 2016 presidential campaign, which he believes to be the most divisive since the 1860s, Watson developed Project Civitas at Lynn to promote civility in politics and public life through education in and outside the classroom. Initiatives include having the mayor of Boca Raton declare March to be Civility Month, hosting "Dialogues in Civility" programs complementing Lynn's Dialogues core curriculum, and encouraging leaders and communities to take a civility pledge.

"We will never be able to address the issues facing our country if we are unable to have open, courteous and fact-based conversations," Watson said. "A healthy democracy requires a commitment to cooperation and the ability to compromise."

A noted historian, Watson has published more than 40 books and hundreds of scholarly articles, book chapters and essays. His book America's First Crisis won book of the year in history at the Independent Publishers Awards, and his current book, The Nazi Titanic, has been featured at leading book festivals and is up for several awards. He has co-convened a half-dozen national conferences on the American presidency, moderated political debates and forums, and delivered more than 1,500 keynote addresses, town hall programs and lectures. He is the founder of three nonprofit think tanks dedicated to civic education, political reform and fact-checking campaign lies.

Media outlets including CNN, NBC, The New York Times, Washington Post, Time and the BBC have interviewed Watson thousands of times. Watson is the editor of SUNY Press' book series on the American presidents and edits and directs the encyclopedia sets American Presidents and American First Ladies for Salem Press/Grey House Publishing.

Watson has served on scholarly journal boards, academic associations and both community and presidential foundations. He is the founding editor of White House Studies and has offered countless free History Day programs for K-12 schools, teacher training workshops on civics, and town halls on politics for the community.

Student speaker, Amanda Chapman Orndorff '17

Amanda Chapman Orndorff is receiving a Doctor of Education degree in educational leadership. A lifelong resident of Palm Beach County, she holds a Bachelor of Science in telecommunications from the University of Florida and a Master of Education in educational leadership from Florida Atlantic University.

Orndorff accepted her first teaching position in 2004 at her alma mater, Atlantic Community High School in Delray Beach. She taught television production, film and leadership and coordinated the Ninth Grade Academy—work that would inspire a career-long interest. Ninth Grade Academies are one of several strategies employed nationally to help students transition more successfully from middle to high school.

From 2011–2013, Orndorff served as a media production specialist at The Education Network, the Palm Beach County School District's television station in Boynton Beach. In 2013, she became assistant principal at Santaluces Community High School in Lake Worth, where she oversaw and strengthened the Career Academies, coordinated Ninth and Tenth Grade Academies, and created ROTC and criminal justice programs (the latter with the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office). In 2015, she accepted her current position as assistant principal at Spanish River Community High School in Boca Raton.

Orndorff chose Lynn's Ed.D. program because of its practitioner focus. "I could take my work in Ninth Grade Academies and develop a research-based solution," she said. She also was drawn by the faculty's scope of expertise and personal interest in students' success.

Orndorff and her husband, Andrew, are parents of a son, Austin, 5, and a daughter, Avery, 1. Orndorff is grateful to her professors, Dean Kathleen Weigel, her husband and their parents for their support while she balanced her studies, a full-time job and second-time motherhood.

Her Ed.D. from Lynn is opening doors to a world of possibilities. "I have no idea what the next step is," Orndorff said, "but I do know it's not just one thing and that my doctorate is the key. The opportunities might be in business, education or a hybrid of the two—or I might be the world's best high school principal."

Traditions

2017 class gift

Each year, members of the graduating class leave behind a gift symbolizing their time at Lynn. The class of 2017 continues this proud tradition by contributing to the Alumni Pay It Forward Endowed Scholarship. Established in 2016, the scholarship is awarded to a first-year student who is in good academic standing and in need of financial assistance. The university is grateful to the graduating class of 2017 for "paying it forward" so that other students can one day fulfill their potential and achieve success in the world.

Academic regalia

The academic robes and hoods worn by the faculty and students lend color to the pageantry of commencement. This regalia dates back into the medieval ages, when it served a functional as well as an ornamental role, separating the learned men from other groups and offering warmth and protection.

In America in the late 19th century, representatives of colleges and universities held a conference to bring order and system to the custom of academic dress. Since then, there have been periodic conferences to revise or reconfirm existing practices.

Undergraduates wear the black robes with the white collars. Holders of the master's degree wear hoods, which are lined with the colors of the college conferring the degree and trimmed with the color representing the subject in which the degree was earned. The doctoral robe is adorned with velvet and is also worn with the hood suitably ornamented.

Holders of degrees from foreign universities or religious orders wear the entire academic costume as decreed by the conferring institution.

The colors on the hoods worn in the academic procession represent:

Arts, Letters, Humanities	White
Commerce, Business	Drab
Communication	Crimson
Economics	Copper
Education	Light blue
Engineering	Orange
Fine Arts	Brown
Foreign Affairs	Aquamarine
Journalism	Crimson
Law	Purple
Library Science	Lemon
Music	Pink
Nursing	Apricot
Philosophy	Dark blue
Physical Education	Sage green
Public Health	Salmon
Science	Golden yellow
Social Sciences	Citron
Speech	Silver gray
Theology	Scarlet

Traditions continued

Undergraduate honor medal ribbons represent:

White—Cum Laude	3.50 to 3.64 grade point average
Blue—Magna Cum Laude	3.65 to 3.79 grade point average
Gold—Summa Cum Laude	3.80 to 4.00 grade point average

Royal blue and gold honor cord:	Golden Key academic, leadership and service honor society
Red, white and blue cord:	U.S. military veterans

The gonfalons

The gonfalons, a tradition that originated in the civic rituals of 12th century Italy, are a part of Lynn University's academic ceremonial protocol.

Lynn University designed the gonfalons in accordance with the standards established for all colleges and universities, and each bears the college's unique symbolic color. The university seal is presented on each gonfalon to embody the common bonds that unite faculty and students as members of one academic community. The vice president for academic affairs, in consultation with the academic deans, selects the faculty members honored to serve as gonfalon bearers.

Special awards

The Dean's Award for Excellence in Graduate Education

Each college and the Conservatory of Music give this award to the graduate who displays outstanding potential for scholarship and leadership in his or her respective field.

The ceremonial academic mace

The academic mace dates back to the 14th century, when royalty, magistrates, and church or university officials carried maces in official processions. The design of the ceremonial academic mace incorporates elements from royal scepters and battle maces, representing both leadership and strength.

During the commencement ceremony, the mace indicates the authority of the university president to award degrees. The chief marshal carries the mace.

The Lynn University mace consists of a three-foot-tall wood scepter with a bronze cast of the Lynn University seal on the top. It was designed in 2002 by Graphic Design Professor Emeritus Ernest Ranspach, who presented it to then-Lynn University President Donald E. Ross in honor of 30 years of leadership and service.

The Evening Undergraduate Division Award

Lynn University presents this award to the degree candidate who has maintained the highest grade point average. Students having transfer hours from other institutions are eligible for the award as long as they have obtained at least 90 credits from Lynn University.

College reimagined:

U.S. News & World Report twice named Lynn among the nation's most innovative universities. Lynn's award-winning iPad-powered degree programs, accelerated degree options and academic partnerships are just a few reasons why.

Innovation-inspired architecture:

Lynn's campus is designed to fit all styles of teaching and learning. The Mohammed Indimi International Business Center adopts best practices from Silicon Valley to Wall Street, with collaborative workspaces and the latest technologies. Incorporating the spiral forms of nature, the multi-faith Snyder Sanctuary is an inspiring space for meditation, music, celebration and dialogue.

We are the champions (again and again)...

Men's soccer brought home Lynn's 20th and 23rd national titles, and the women's golf team won back-to-back titles to bring home our 21st and 22nd national championships. Class of 2017 graduates helped design a brand new Fighting Knights logo and mascot.

Wearing blue
since 1962.

Founder's Day, with its beloved canoe challenge,
is an annual tradition to celebrate our history and remarkable accomplishments.

This program is not an official graduation list. This printed program lists students who were eligible to graduate for academic year 2016–17, as of April 12, 2017, pending the outcome of final examinations and final grades. Therefore, it should not be used to determine a student's academic or degree status. The university's official registry for the conferral of degrees is the student's permanent academic record, kept by the Office of the Registrar, Lynn University, 3601 N. Military Trail, Boca Raton, FL 33431.

Alma Mater

Music and lyrics by Joe Carey
Choral arrangement by Rick Krive

Under skies of blue
We've made friends so true
From every corner of the world
Celebrating different cultures
Made us see our world anew.

LYNN
UNIVERSITY

From this caring place
We will squarely face
The challenge of our destiny
Like our Fighting Knights
We'll lift hearts and sights
And we'll go forth in victory.

And if our blue skies should turn to grey days
Or we misplace a dream or two
We'll remember Alma Mater
And then Her spirit will see us through.

So let's raise our voice
In a proud refrain
Remembering good times we all knew
Hail all hail our Alma Mater
Lynn University ... Here's to you!
